

CONTENTS

WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

8

A woman's place
is in politics

by Silvana Koch-Mehrin

14

Breaking down barriers:
my journey to the European Parliament presidential election

by Helga Stevens

18

Progress made on women in science
– but much still to do

by Aibhinn Ní Shúilleabháin

POLITICS AND POPULISM

24

Give the people what they want?

by Dr Catherine Fieschi

28

A reforming president in France can trigger
reforms in Europe

by Sylvie Goulard

32

Vive la République
européenne!

by Ulrike Guérot

36

Using hope not fear,
individuals can build a brighter collective future

by Birgitta Jónsdóttir

40

Do you hear me?

by Clare Lockhart

ENERGY AND CLIMATE CHANGE

48

Europe's environmental challenges dwarf
its Brexit troubles

by Magda Stoczkiewicz

52

Climate change
is a feminist issue

by Linnea Engström

58

How Brazil got sugar
smart to meet its energy
challenge

by Elizabeth Farina

GLOBAL RELATIONS

64

Building a bridge between powerlessness
and hope

by Tanja Gönner

68

We must avoid losing
the talents of a generation
of refugee students

by Valerie Amos

72

Cultural convergence is the key to EU-Maghreb
relations

by Assia Bensalah Alaoui

78

Forget 'The Wall':
US-Mexico links benefit
both sides

by Jessica De Alba Ulloa

ADDRESSING SOCIETAL CHALLENGES

84

Antimicrobial resistance is a global threat that needs global action – now

by Francesca Colombo

88

Europe should give meaning to the rule of law online

by Marietje Schaake

94

We must tackle long-term job insecurity, not just the excesses of the 'gig economy'

by Sandra Polaski

98

Digital technologies can be a 21st-century game-changer for women

by Lindsey Nefesh-Clarke

PEACE, SECURITY AND DEFENCE

106

Will troubled waters spoil ASEAN's celebrations?

by Yeo Lay Hwee

112

Is there such a thing as feminist foreign policy?

by Melanne Verwee

116

"We have wrecked the world" – inside Syria's international civil war

by Zaina Erhaim

120

Promoting Afghan women's rights is a shared responsibility

by Simar Samar

126

Young people can map a European future for the Balkans

by Suela Janina

130

Tunisia's Muslim democracy is exceptional – but doesn't have to be an exception

by Meherzia Labidi Maïza

BRIDGING SOCIAL DIVIDES

136

Spanning the gap between Poland's cities and countryside

by Hanna Gronkiewicz-Waltz

140

Europe must empower moderate voices to change the story on Islam

by Nurul Izzah Anwar

146

Cities can create European solidarity and trust between residents and refugees

by Henriette Reker

VIEWS FROM THE CAPITALS

151

Athens: economic recovery depends on urgent policy action

by Ersi Athanassiou

152

Valletta: the one-dimensional Euro-Mediterranean dimension

by Anna Khakee

153

Dublin: a neighbour's view of Brexit

by Gail McElroy

154

Bucharest: another Romanian winter of discontent

by Mădălina Mocan

155

Vilnius: how much is enough to defend Lithuania?

by Margarita Šešelgytė